Carver's Women's Business Group

The Carver's Women's Business Group met on the 11th of July to begin their planning for the annual event of Christmas in the Village celebration. Santa has been contacted well enough in advance and will be scheduled to appear along with his infamous Reindeer. The horse drawn wagon will also be making a come back. These events are scheduled for Saturday the 2nd of December so there will be no excuses for why you couldn't attend with the lil' ones because you have more than enough notice. Forgetting won't count either. When it's this warm, thinking about winter is always a good thing! Your subconscious will think cool instead of hot. (Trust me – it really works – okay maybe only for a few seconds but it works. "Mind over matter" is what I was always told.) Okay, so back to the fine ladies announcements. On the 9th of December the 'Taste of Christmas' and the 'Decorated House Tours' will also be repeated. More details will follow. The ladies also wish to announce that they would like more homes to sign up to be included in the tour this year. There are many finely decorated homes and the ladies invite you to share this beauty for a good cause. If interested, please contact Barb Swanson at 952) 448-4580 or Suzanne Thiesfeld at 952) 448-4870. Plans this year are to group the homes in the categories of historic homes, new homes, homes in the city and homes in the country. This is a really, really fun tour and all participants receive tickets to the Christmas event. Anyone interested in helping to plan this celebration is welcome and invited to their next meetings. They meet on the first Tuesday of the month at noon at the Church-By-The-River.

Miscellaneous

The council discussed the issue of watering during restricted times and fines associated with disregard to the ordinance. Fines should be enforced to ensure adherence.

Council was approached regarding proposed use of a garage in the residential district. The number of parking spaces and the buildings square footage apparently conflict with the proposed usage. The ordinance was explained. Council consensus was not in objection of the proposal. The city planner was directed to draft a resolution for the council's review. The ordinance relating to parking was to be reviewed was the council's decision due to the discussion.

Sixth Street

Council member inquired about re-sealcoating the Sixth Street Trail. The council was told that it was not in this year's budget. Since this is the oldest trail in the city, priority would be assigned to it. Question was asked about the "Adopt a Highway" Program being instituted for Sixth Street. Suggestion was submitted to request STS personnel to clean up the stretch of road. This option was okay with the council. Speeding was also referenced in the conversation. The deputy would be updated on this information.

Municipal Utilities

The council discussed an incident concerning the municipal water in a development. A mishap caused the need to shut down the water system in the area. Since there were old valves in the area a fire hydrant had to be used to determini water shut off which in turn upon reconnection caused a water surge. There was a discussion regarding notification, however these types of incidents are rare and usually uneventful.

The council reviewed an issue relating to municipal utilities connection whether or not to proceed with civil action. Letter is to be drafted stating the council intent to pursue civil action unless the property owner submits contractor's name to conduct the work.

The council reviewed a homeowner's request to defer municipal utilities connection for a year due to medical reasons and financial burden. The attorney pointed out that the ordinance does not specifically allow this and the council could be setting a precedent. Council member questioned limits that could be set. Another council member was of the impression that monetary conditions were not available. The mayor pointed out that a specific time frame had been requested. Question was asked what are the reasons that an extension can be requested. Motion was made and carried adopting resolution connection to water and sewer exception.

Did You Know...

...that in October 1865 Steven Kult built a large brick store in Carver which burned to the ground in a disastrous fire in May 1870 Rebuilt in the summer and fall of 1871, it reopened in November 1871 as a clothing store with an attached tailor shop.

...that in 1880 Carver blacksmith Charles Dauwalter Sr advertised in the Weekly Valley Herald that he did blacksmithing and horseshoeing work on short notice, and that he was an agent for Dixon Moine and Western Plows. (John VonWalter)

Water Tower Site Evaluation

The city engineer refreshed the council on the facts related to the site evaluation for the water tower. In the fall of 2005 various locations had been reviewed. Site C1 was the preferred location after the review and the study. Ownership has since changed and likewise it was the new owner's contention that this location would cause difficulties with their developmental proposal. The location labeled as 'Site c3" was suggested. Soil borings had been done and recently delineated the wetland, plus provided a site survey. Proposal has been made to give this site to the city for a new water tower. There had been discussions for months with the staff and consultants. Mention was made to the effect that the land acquisition costs associated with 'Site C1' would not be associated with 'Site C3'. The engineering firm prepared a plan for the proposed site showing how the tower would fit on the location. Breakdown of cost differences had also been prepared for the two sites. Side-by-side cost comparisons were requested. Question was asked which site was better? The engineer responded that over all, it was his opinion that it was negligible and there were fiscal issues. The new owners representative did not agree with the engineer's figures for foundation costs. The mayor interjected his opinion that the plan should be the best financially and work well for the water tower.

The new property owner requested relocation of the water tower site. Soil borings in the proposed location along with delineating the wetland and site survey have been all done. The council reviewed cost comparison of the two sites. Question was asked why the city would want to change sites. The developer's representative pointed out that the land cost estimate on the cost comparison was too low. However the city attorney disagreed stating that it was The engineer stated that either site was satisfactory. Motion was made and carried with all ayes to continue procedures with the original location, Site C1 for the water tower. Council member inquired about the cost per acre for property. Height of the tower was asked.

Did You Know...

...that by petition on April 21st, 1863 the portion of Chaska and Carver included in Township Range 24 was organized into a new township called Liberty Township. Later Liberty Township, settled mostly by Swedish immigrants, was renamed Dahlgren Township in honor of Swedish-American US Rear Admiral John A Dahlgren, who served in the Civil War and invented a new type of naval cannon.

Tree Ordinance

The Planning Commission discussed the Zoning Ordinance regulating the applicability of the ordinance relating to government projects. At the Planning Commission meeting a Public Hearing was held. The city planner informed the commissioners that the city council re-quested a Public Hearing be held for an amendment to the ordinance to exempt city and government projects. She reviewed the amendments. Examples of exempt projects were requested. The city planner described projects like the new water tower and the lift station. A discussion pursued. Resident questioned values of trees on private property versus public property and how one measures these differences in values. However, it was understood the importance of maintenance of right-of-ways but the proposed ordinance exempts MnDOT, the county, the city and any other governmental entity. Consensus was that it was unclear why the city would pass an ordinance making it easier for state agencies and non-local governmental units to cut down trees within the city. Statement was made to the effect that the city should be exempt from rules, as it would place a financial hardship on the city. Resident disagreed with that this opinion, stating that the cost of avoidance is zero. The cost to the city would be considered a "cost of inconvenience". There are instances were tree replacement is required and the ordinance would possibly allow that. The costs associated with tree replace-mint are nominal compared to the costs of most governmental projects was said. Resident stated that the cost of this ordinance should not be solely passed onto the residents. Argument was further reasoned as requiring the home-owner to protect trees, but exempting public pro-jest, then places the entire burden on individual residents. Opinion was given that saving or replacing trees on public projects returns some of the costs to the general public. It was a resident's opinion that the is-sue at hand involved the unfairness of this ordinance. Question posed to the group that if property owner is unable to fully utilize developing of a lot due to the ordinance, then was it feasible for the city to possess the capability to purchase the lot possibly even at a reduced cost, thereby removing trees and developing the lot? Another scenario pre-scented to substantiate the argument of opposition was if a lot were acquired for park dedication from a development, would the require-mint be to pre-serve the trees so that the city could cut them down for a playground. Statement was made regarding council awareness of growing cynicism towards governmental units passing laws exempting themselves, which feeds to this cynicism debilitating the trust of the public. The Planning Commission made the motion, which carried not approving the amendment Zoning Ordinance regulating the applicability of the Zoning Ordinance to governmental projects.

The council reviewed the issue of the ordinance amendment relating to the section applicable to the Tree Ordinance to Government Projects. The council was told that the Planning Commission held a Public Hearin on the item and one comment had been received. The Planning Commission members present had recommended denial of the ordinance. The council discussed the issue with the mayor objecting to the city being exempt from the ordinance. Another council member agreed that the city should be as responsible as the residents and developers were being asked to be. Motion was made and carried with three ayes and one nay adopting the ordinance amending section relating to the applicability of the tree ordinances to government projects.

Forner Lane Utility Improvements

A Public Hearing had been held regarding the Forner Lane Utility Improvements and private sanitary sewer systems. There was a discus-soon of the possibility of privately sanitary sewer systems for some of the properties along Bade Lane since gravity sewer could not serve some of these properties at this time. The existing properties could be served at a later date when the sewer system is extended from the RiverBluff Estates Development. The engineer pointed out that in the future it would be difficult to show benefit to the existing homeowners who continue to operate private systems. Other expenses and issues that could occur relating to private systems were explained.

Did You Know...

....that until 1862 Carver County settlers cold stake out up to 160 acres of land. To receive a deed on the land they were required to live on the land for a period of two years, to make improvements on it, and then pay $1.50 per acre to the United States Land Office.

...that in 1878 Jacob Homer, called the "Pottery Man", opened a saloon on Broadway in Carver.

(John VonWalter)

Common Interest Community

The Planning Commission reviewed the amendment to the Subdivision regulations regulating the process of the Common Interest Community plats. The city Planner told the commissioners that this amendment was a technical process for the plats. According to current city codes requirement was that the developer go through the platting process for each plat. These plats for individual buildings are consistent with all of the agreements. It was explained that these plats could be reviewed and approved administratively by the city planner. To defray costs of processing individual plats a separate fee may be established. If there were an inconsistency with a submitted plat then the sub divider would be required to proceed under the terms of the subdivision ordinance.

The commissioners discussed and relayed questions regarding the common interest community plats. An extreme example involved a hundred unit condo building. Question was asked about another develop-mint's landscape plan and removal of trees and not following regulations according to the plan. The plats have nothing to do with lands-capping. The common interest community plats are used to define com-moon interest of land for town homes where units do not use up all of the land. Motion was made and carried recommending approval of the amendment regulating the processing of common interest community plats following the approval of the final plat.

The city attorney reviewed with the council the Ordinance amending Final Plat Provisions for Subdivision and Permitting Administrative Approval of CIC (Community Interest Community) Plats. The attorney explained that Centex Homes is seeking final plat approval for the Glen at Spring Creek proposing to introduce individual CIC (community intersest community) plats for each building. The attorney told the council that this was relatively common procedure by a developer. The current city code would require the platting process be followed through by the developer for each CIC plat. This is time consuming and expensive pro-cuss for each entity. The attorney pointed out that providing that the CIC plats for individual buildings are consistent with the approved pre-luminary plat, final plat and the developer's agreement then it would be appropriate that the CIC plats could be reviewed and approved admin-iteratively. Motion was made and carried with all ayes adopting the or-finance amending the section regulating the proceeding of CIC plats following the approval of a final plat.

Carver Depot Caboose

The Caboose Committee reported that they are waiting for the graphics personnel to start the lettering process and logos to apply to our plan form drawings. The committee is also looking at a red marker light to be installed at each end. Once these items are all taken care of, the committee will begin working on getting the wiring done inside. Once the lighting is installed, the next step will be to build display cases. The process is moving right along. Keep the updates coming Paul.

LyleWood Glen

The city planner told the Planning Commission that Heritage Developmint requested a concept review of a proposal to sell thirteen of the existing LyleWood Glen block to Centex Homes. In order for this request to be changed the applicant has to apply for an amendment to the Conditional Use Permit. The two developers were present to review their concept plan with the commissioners. The current project is all the same product and architecture and the second developer proposed a different product type with more variety and affordability. The lot lines would be defined from center to center making it compliant with the ape-proved plats. This proposal resembled an already approved product line with side units having entrances on the side. The pricing of these town homes was questioned. One commissioner remarked disapproval of an approved product requesting what Centex would be willing to ad-just in the design. Centex stated that they would be providing walk out units and two level units. Exterior appearances were discussed at length by the commissioners.

The developers were requested to present past and present designs for comparisons. Deck materials were covered. The Home Owners Assocination was briefly touched upon. Between the two developers there would only be one association. There was some discussion of street names and options. The developers would return with revised plans and attempt to include the development to the north in order to visualize how neighborhoods would blend together.

Comprehensive Plan Update

At the June Comprehensive Plan work group meeting the group discussed 'Developing Goals and Policies' involving Land Use and Housing. The work group also talked about the update on the Status of Plan Components and schedule future meeting dates, proposing to add two extra meetings. The tentatively scheduled meetings were set for July 19th and the 31st, August 16th and 28th.

The Planning Commission reviewed issues relating to the Comprehensive Plan. The city planner presented the proposed Land Use Map. The commissions discussed promoting energy effect housing, required trails, requiring developments to work with the terrain rather than flat-tuning the land by forming to the terrain rather than make the land form it. The commissioners also talked about water system plan.

One commissioner inquired about a current local map showing the sure-rounding proposed developments in Dahlgren Township. Inquiry was also made regarding the new Highway #212 corridor and proposed in-doctrinal/commercial areas. Question was asked if the city was active or not in the decision of types of stores and/or businesses would be in-cluded in the areas. The city planner would produce these items for the commissioner. The city planner has been at meetings with develop-ers and the city usually becomes active once the land has been pur-chased and concept plans are submitted. Statement was made that the city will be experiencing growing pains in the near future with growth and the new developments.

One commissioner stated that they would like to see Carver build out different areas with more specialty businesses in order to make the city more attractive. It was their opinion that Eden Prairie was not a con-lenient location. Statement was made that if planning is not pursued the area could end up with gas stations and fast food businesses. Another commissioner interjected the opinion of wanting to see Carver had the 'feel of a walking city' like Stillwater and/or Maple Grove. One comment submitted stated that the area does not have the population to support that type of a community. The city planner pointed out that this may the 'aire' desired. However residents cannot dictate whom or what can or will come to the area. The planner pointed out that it was difficult to balance between: 'a small town walk around feeling'; 'life style plaza – an outside mall' ; or higher taxes or have a "big box" move in and lower taxes. Statement was made that there is an industrial/commetrical building sitting empty in Cologne because businesses did not meet the needs of the community.

The city planner sated that staring in July she will be bringing portions of the Comprehensive Plan in chapter format for the Planning Commission's review and feedback from them.

Street Names

The city planner told the Planning Commission that the council requested feedback for local street names for county roads. The city engineer provided background information for these areas along with maps. It was the intent to have all the communities and townships agree on a final recommendation as part of the process especially since the areas involve more than one governmental unit who will be affected by name changes.

The planning commissioners discussed names for local street names. Recommendations for locations referred to on the map with County names were submitted. County Road #40 from Highway #212 to Fourth Street would be known as "Lost Forest Road". Reviewal of area County Road 40 from Main Street to County Road #11 (old County Road #147) produced the name "Main Street". Clarification was made that Currently the County Road #11 ends at the intersection of County Road #40 and that County Road #40 continues to the southwest. Area three involved County Road #11 from Highway #212 to County Road #40. Previously request had been made to recommend "Jonathan Carver Parkway". The state Department of Transportation opposed the length of the chosen name, however no definite decisions have been made at this point. The fourth area (still considered Dahlgren Township and San Francisco Township) involved County Road #45 from the intersection of County Road #40 to the Scott County border. Discussions have been heard regarding reworking the said intersection in the future. Recommendation would be to name the section the same as County Road #11. The commissioner's first choice remained the "Jonathan Carver Park-way"; however, the second choice was "River Valley Road". Spring Creek Drive was reviewed and a portion of this road is within the city limits, there were not any objections to retaining the present name.

Tollefson Development Concept Plan

The Planning Commission was informed that Tollefson Development representatives had attended the Park and Recreation Board meeting to present their Concept Plan. The commissioners were given a brief outline of the development, which includes an elementary school and a community center. A sub-committee has been formed to meet with the Tollefson developers on an "as needed" bases to continue reviewal of concept plans for location and size for a community center, school with shared amenities, etc. Question was asked if a Planning Commission member would like to serve on this sub-committee. Commissioners also discussed appointing member to serve on the committee.

The city planner gave an overview of the school district's timeline for the elementary school. 2008 would be a referendum, construction scheduled for 2009 and open of the school in the fall of 2010. The Planning Commission discussed the school site with shared amenities and Tol-lefson Development.

Building Inspector

The Building Official, Ray Williams introduced the new building inspector to the council. Mark Pistulka started working for the City of Carver on July 1st. The council welcomed him to the city.

Challenger Lane

The council was told that Centex Homes and Heritage Development are petitioning to rename a street from Challenger Lane to White Pine Way. There are not any properties currently addressed off of the street. This requested name change would not be in effect until after the Parade of Homes due to advertising. Motion was made and carried with all ayes amending the resolution renaming Challenger Lane to occur earlier than January 1st, 2007 or in the event of issuance of a certificate of occupancy addressed on the street in question and adopt the resolution renaming Challenger Lane to White Pine Way within the development named LyleWood Glen.

Private Street Lights

The council reviewed request to approve or deny the use of private street light in the Spring Creek, Spring Creek 2nd Addition and Glen at Spring Creek. Request was made to the city to place the private street light in their subdivisions. The request was based on the desire to have a more decorative street light in their plats rather then the current city standard. They would also like to place the logo of the city or the de-velopment on the base of the new poles. Cost comparisons were made The home owners association would own, operate and maintain these lights. Future problems would be addressed in the resolution if the association experienced problems in the future.

The public works director stated that street light changes are forthcoming and sometimes change is hard to handle, but Xcel is attempting to eliminate the street light fixture business. The public works was concerned that if the city's logo were on the pole that it may be misinterpreted as city property. The subdivision logo would be placed on the poles. Question was asked whether or not a precedent was being set for other developments to utilize private street lights. The city attorney affirmed that a precedent was being set, but it may be more cost effective.

Engineering Studies

The council reviewed the additional costs for engineering studies. The council had approved proceeding with additional work on the three engineering studies involving the water, sanitary sewer and storm sewer. These studies were part of the Alternate Urban Area Review and Comprehensive Plan Updates, as well as the additional costs involved for these three studies. The council reviewed the report and statement was made that it appeared that less then 50%of the work had been done. Request was made for the engineer to supply detailed report of costs for each of the projects. Motion was made and carried with all ayes additional costs for the projects with a cap not to exceed said amount.

Central Business District

The council reviewed the resolution requesting allowance to reduce the required number of parking spaces in the Central Business District for a business on Fourth Street. A section in the Zoning Ordinance allows the council to reduce the required number of parking spaces. The city planner stated that the Zoning Ordinance would be reviewed after the Comprehensive Plan is complete. Motion was made and carried with all ayes adopting the resolution reducing the number of required parking spaced for the proposed store known as "Rutabaga Antiques and Gift Shop" located on Fourth Street.

River Bluff Estates

The council was to review the resolution amending the Conditional Use Permit for River Bluff Estates. The city planner gave some background stating that the developer requested an amendment to the existing Conditional Use Permit to change the architectural elevations of the town homes . If the town home architecture were approved, then it becomes necessary to have the approved grading and landscaping changed as well. Retaining walls were discussed with the developer. Motion was made and carried with three ayes and one nay amending the resolution adding fencing to be black coated and retaining wall blocks are the same as existing and adopting the resolution amending approval of the Conditional Use Permit for the town homes in River Bluff Estates.

DownTown Task Force

Council member reviewed interpretation of council's direction of expectations of Task Force. Goals were expanded and membership proposal was reviewed. The task force should meet twice monthly for some issues, it was stated. Residents should also be included as members. The administrator stated that several names had been submitted. One couple was outside the city limits. Those residents outside the city limits would be welcomed as advisors, but were uncertain of committing to allowing seats as members to the Task Force.

State of the City

Mayor Weygand presented a State of the City address to the Chaska of Commerce. He will repeat the State of the City address before the August 7th council meeting at 5:30 PM at the Church-By-The-River.

City of Carver Elections - Filing for Candidacy

Affidavits of candidacy for three council members and one mayor will be taken by the city clerk starting Tuesday, August 29 until September 12th, at the city hall. Two council members will be elected for four year terms and one seat for two year term. The mayor's term is for four years.

SteamBoat Days

SteamBoat Days committee has been meeting to prepare for SteamBoat Days! Anyone interested in helping the committee is welcomed. The bands have been confirmed.

One of the events in the is the Medallion Hunt. The first clue will be given on Friday, September 8th at 4 PM. The city's September newsletter will have more details. Bet you' there's SteamBoat Days information on the city's website too for those who have computers. Again, those who don't, talk to your friends, neighbors, family, library or total strangers. (I'm kidding)

"Queen of Carver" is a contest planned for SteamBoat Days. A friendly competition amongst female bartenders in Carver Each bartender will select a charity to represent and bar patrons can "vote" for their favorite bartender/charity. Want more information. Ask any bartender in town. They'll be more than happy to give you the scoop.

Carver Youth Baseball/Softball Association

The Carver Community Youth Baseball and Softball Association season has ended for the girl's softball league with a tournament at the Pioneer fields in Chaska. They played through the heat and time delays and finished on schedule. Carver has much to be proud of. The 2nd and 3rd grade teams had a watermelon feed at the end of their game recently. The 4th and 5th grade girls took first place. Team 1 for Carver High School took 3rd place while Team 2 of the Carver High School took 2nd place. The 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grade teams also participated in the tournament and play with great sportsmanship. Congratulations to everyone.

There are just so many people to thank for their support, hard work, participation and volunteering. A complete list of thanks is listed in the Carver newsletter that the city puts out. Be sure to check out each and every hard working individual and see exactly what they did supporting these association. A big thanks is extended to each and every one!

The association is looking forward to 2007 Again we are seeking to get Carver youth Baseball back into Carver. Parents have already committed to help organize this. Will keep everyone posted on this program. Jane extends her thanks, again, to all for a great 2006 year. Thanks Jane for all her time and efforts, blood, sweat and tears to make this association possible. She also deserves huge THANKS!

Did You Know...

...that on Thursday evening, July 20, 2006 a human skull was found by the Carver Fire Department in the shallows of the MN River below the railroad bridge next to the Carver RiverSide Park entrance. A day earlier a railroad employee had spotted what he believed to be a skull while crossing the bridge. The skull was given to the Carver County Sheriff's Office, and in turn transported to the regional coroner's office in Hastings for examination, potential identification and possible matching to one of several people who have gone missing in the river over the years.
